State Balance,	$ 37.87
Town over expended,		$ 20.95	$ 16.92

Note:

The reason that the State showed a balance carried to the 1928 account, and the Town showed an over expenditure as shown in the above statement was caused by the State Dept. not receiving weekly reports amounting in total to $58.81. Had these reports been received by the State the balance would have been as follows:

	STATE	TOWN	TOTAL
Balance to 1928 account	$37.87	$37.86	$75.73

Robert A. Andrew as Patrolman with Ford truck from: March 13, 1927 to October 13, 1927. The above expenditures also includes extra labor by Town and State Department employes on account of sanding, patching and tarring and also payment for tarvia and use of trucks by the State Highway Department.

During the year 1927, there were two very bad places on the Derry Road Trunk Line that were eliminated, one at the head of Mansfield St., and the other just beyond the farm known as the Hunnewell place. The widening of these two places was recommended by the State Department.

Report of School Board

To the citizens of the district :

The superintendent of the union, Mr. Record has, in his report, touched upon numerous points of interest and made several recommendations, these we will not repeat.

We again wish to call to your attention, the overcrowded condition of grade one at the Webster building. There are now forty-eight pupils in this room which is too many for one teacher, the State Board recommending not over forty to a teacher.

We continued the use of the room in the Odd Fellows Building again this year taking care of about twenty four of the pupils above grade four.

The teachers of domestic arts and manual training have been employed every forenoon of the school week, one day at the Centre and the balance of the week at the Webster Building. The domestic arts teacher taking charge of the hot lunches of which about fifty are being served daily.

The city of Nashua has again raised the tuition for high school pupils from $95.00 to $103.97. This will make an increase in the amount necessary to be raised for High School tuition.

We recommend that the district take some action in regard to supplying No. 9 school with a suitable supply of drinking water.

We have finished off suitable rooms for the teaching of manual training and domestic arts, in the basement of the Centre building, and at a much less cost that it would have been to have remodeled the upper story as was at first planned.

The usual minor repairs have been made and we have had to board up the windows at No. 7 school account of year. Several rooms at the Webster School and the primary room at the Center are filled to their capacities. At present the condition is endurable but how long it will so remain is problematical Teachers.

There was but one new teacher in your entire corps of regular and special teachers at the beginning of the present year. Miss Helen Dunlap, a graduate of the Keene Normal School, succeeded Mrs. Gaffney, who refused reelection, at No. 9 school. This is a greater degree of permanency than you may expect in the future. This I attribute to your careful selection and considerate treatment of your teachers and it materially contributes to the efficiency of your school system.

Opportunity Class.

There seems to be some popular misunderstanding and even evidence of some hostility against the Opportunity Class. I did not foresee this when, because of a very urgent need, you established this school in 1925. This was no innovation, as all sizeable school systems with which I am conversant have one or more of these classes, e, g, Nashua has four and Concord three.

Opportunity classes are established for just the purpose which the name indicates, to give the children an opportunity for securing what would be impossible for them in a regular grade room. Children, like adults, are far from being alike. Some have an academic, some a mechanical, some an esthetic bent, some are quick in academic subjects and slow in mechanical performance or esthetic appreciation, while others are just the reverse. In school systems, of even today, the great stress is upon academic subjects. It is only natural under such circumstances that there are some vandals breaking the glass in the windows there. The remainder of the school property is in good condition.

The following estimates for the year 1928-29 are submitted based on the same rate expenditures as for 1927-28 for elementary schools.

Estimated receipts from the minimum tax of $3.50	$ 6,387.50
Additional sum required for the support of schools	15,700.00
Excess salary of Superintendent	302.50
High School tuition	9,000.00
State Wide tax	1,134.00

	$32,524.00
Probable contribution of state	6,000.00

Amount to be raised by the district	$26,524.00

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT

To the School Board of Hudson:

Gentlemen:

It gives me pleasure to submit herewith my ninth annual report as superintendent of your schools, and to this I have attached a report from your school nurse.

Membership.

The membership of your schools at the present time is as follows: Webster School, 299, Special Class, 24, Center School, 70, No. 7, 20, No. 9, 22, total 435. This is not materially different from what it was two years ago, but because of an apparent greater shift in population, the total enrollment will probably be the largest next June of any pronounced misfits.

Besides these natural differences there is also often a language difference. Though English is the national language, some children because of the home dialect are handicapped by a lack of even a working knowledge of our tongue.

Our opportunity class is isolated for no other reason than because there is no available room in any school building. At the time of its establishment it was carefully considered by the board whether this class or one of the regular grades should be placed in this rented room. Now all of the classes of the Webster School are too large to be accommodated in this room with the exception of grades VII and VIII. For obvious reasons it would be impracticable to move either of these grades from the Webster building.

The membership of opportunity classes is kept small to allow for more individual attention on the part of the teacher and the work is varied as far as possible to meet the individual needs of the pupils. In our school, manual work and the rudiments of the essentials in academic subjects are stressed. Any parent who has a child in this school should feel very thankful for the opportunities furnished.

This is written with the hope of giving some a better understanding of the purpose of these schools and not with any intention of furnishing any apology or justification for the establishing of our opportunity class, for there is absolutely no occasion for either.

Noon Lunches.

One of the activities of our schools during the past two years, which is especially worthy of mention in this report, is the noon lunch served daily to about fifty-five pupils in the Webster School. Those of you who have had the experience of eating cold lunches daily for a period of years appreciate the strain of so doing on the physical system. This is likely to be the more harmful to the growing child who hurriedly and improperly eats his cold, and perhaps hurriedly prepared, lunch at the mid-session or noon recess, or at both.

A lunch counter in our larger schools is no recent experiment. It is frequently the case, however, that much of the food served on these counters consists of cold sandwiches, ices, or candies. Such an arrangement serves only as a little convenience to the housekeeper who prepares the lunch and does not lessen the deleterious effect of the cold lunch. The principal of the Webster School and the domestic arts teacher have worked out a plan by which the children of that school are given a midday lunch which is warm, healthful, nutritious and satisfying. The expense of these lunches to the parent is but 20 cents and three potatoes per week, much less than it would cost to feed the children in their homes even if it were possible to do so.

The menus served for the five days of the week December 23 — 27 inclusive, which is a fair sample of the various weeks of the year, is given below.

Monday — Creamed potatoes, carrots and mashed potatoes.

Tuesday — Italian macaroni and cocoa.

Wednesday — Braised beef and boiled potatoes.

Thursday — Tomato bisque and crackers.

Friday — Fish chowder and crackers.

These are served warm and in generous portions to each child. It is rather a revelation to those unfamiliar with the practices in modern schools to witness these children at the noon recess being served and supervised while seated at the tables in the domestic arts room and enjoying a hot nutritious lunch.

There is almost as great a need for something similar being done at the Center School, and I believe the school board would do well to consider plans for making it possible. There are in this school about 40 pupils who daily bring their lunches. The present equipment of the domestic arts room will not permit the preparing of lunches for that number.

Report Cards

The sole purpose of the report card is to notify the parent of the teacher's estimate of the progress, which actually registers in achievement, being made by the pupil from period to period. In order that the marks may carry a real message to the parent, the five point scale, which has been found by administrators of school systems to be the most indicative and convenient, has been adopted. In this system A and B practically denote the work of the first third of the average class, C, the middle third, D and F, the lowest third. A denotes the work of the exceptional child and F that of the one who probably will have to repeat. All this is indicated on the report cards, yet complaints are frequent, too frequent from parents who are grieved because their children whom they rate only as average students do not have a majority of A's and B's in their reports. Our teachers are instructed and warned that they must tell the truth on these cards, and the truth will invariably bring complaints just as long as nature endows the parent with prejudice for her own. I am pleased to report that it is my strong conviction that our teachers are scrupulously careful in this matter.

Roll of Perfect Attendance.

Cora Smith, Dorothy Beston, Jessie Relation, Wanda Ligarski, Alphonse Kupcuhurs, Reginald Rich, Jennie Polack, Earl Rich.

From these statistics we observe that there was a decrease in your membership last year, probably due to the opening of the parochial school on the Lowell road, but that the number now present in your schools shows a slight increase over that of two years ago, and an increase of 51% in the past eight years. Your number of high school pupils has increased from 35 to 81, or 131%. This is expensive but very desirable. Your per cent of attendance has increased from 88% to 93.4%

In General.

It seems to me though there is a chance for much improvement, and we should earnestly strive for it, that your school system has more commendable features in it today than at any time since I have been conversant with it.

Thanking the teachers for their untiring efforts, the board for its ceaseless labors, and both for the many considerations, shown me, this report is,

Respectfully submitted,

LOUIS DEWITT RECORD,

Supt. of Schools, Union No. 27.

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL NURSE

To the School Board and Citizens of Hudson:

I tender my report as school nurse for the past year.

As in the past the number of children with defective teeth and tonsils remain high although quite a few have received treatment or shown improvement since the last examination.

A dental clinic for the Webster and Center schools was planned last spring. The dentist coming and making an examination of the children's teeth and then was to return in three weeks, and do the dental work, but he was held up in another district and was not able to leave there until June, when our schools were closed. This was a great disappointment to the children as well as to the teachers and myself. This past fall I have taken some of the children to a dentist in Nashua and hope to take many more during the remaining part of the school year.

The hot lunches are still being served at the Webster School and there are on an average about 53 served every day. At present there are 4 children receiving free lunches made possible by a sum given to the principal of the building, for that purpose from the amount raised at the school play last spring. The children having the hot lunches show an improvement in their physical condition and I believe the teachers will agree with me when I say that these children do better work in the afternoon when they have had a hot lunch. As I said last year, I hope the hot lunch program would be carried out at the Center School. In the Center School the larger share of children come in a school team or automobile and this means leaving home quite early in the morning and also a hurried breakfast, so a large share of their lunch is eaten during the morning recess. Then a cold ride at night, making a long day for these children without anything hot to eat. If an arrangement could be worked out whereby these children could have a hot lunch, I am sure the teachers and parents would see a great improvement in the children.

The children at the Webster School still have milk at the morning recess. An average of about 40 bottles of milk are sold every morning and a large number about 20 more bring their bottles of milk from home. We average about 4 bottles of free milk every day, these as well as the straws used are paid out of the Webster School Free Milk Fund. The money was raised this year by a tag day in May, by which thirty dollars was raised.

All the parents I have talked with certainly appreciate the hot lunches, and milk at recess for their children.

We have been very free from contagious diseases the past year and very little sickness among the school children the past year.

Below is a list of the defects found and the treatment secured or improvement shown since last examination.
